GREAT TO SEE YOU AGAIN!

After several months stuck at home, we need... nature. From our half-open windows, balconies or gardens, cut off from everything, many of us imagined what the world would be like. The mountain would be our garden, the pastures a refuge, the vines our horizon, the riverbanks a playground, and the foliage a breath of fresh air; we would feel the wind. Like an inner journey pushing us forward, lockdown has opened our eyes to the need to move to a simpler, wiser and gentler way of life.

Coming to Burgundy-Franche-Comté for a weekend, a holiday or for life, it's a healthy and accessible lifestyle, where you can be satisfied with little things, it's thinking before you just eat any old thing, it's reconnecting with local businesses and expertise, and it's rediscovering the happiness of living in harmony with nature and others.

Get away from it all, clear your mind, change your point of view and your environment, play sports, take time for yourself, live to the rhythm of nature, travel through time, get back to basics, see things on a bigger scale... no need to look any further, it's all waiting for you in Burgundy-Franche-Comté!

Welcoming, inspiring, accessible, stimulating and attractive, all at the same time, Burgundy-Franche-Comté, with its COLLECTIONS, Burgundy, Jura Mountains and Southern Vosges is a state of mind and an approach to living life.

Don't miss out.

3 DESTINATIONS, 1 REGION

You can get to the point in this region. With its multiple faces and characters, the region has a thirst for truth and an ability to create real emotions.

From north to south, three destination brands - Designed By Burgundy, Jura Mountains and Vosges Massif - three personalities making up one great region: Burgundy-Franche-Comté.

Designed by Burgundy

I am elegant, epicurean, generous and greedy, but trendy and glamorous at the same time. With a provincial air, I have a refined spirit, French chic, an openness to design. I attract those who can appreciate beautiful and fine things and I cultivate a certain way of life, which has earned me an international reputation.

Just two hours from Paris, I appeal to fashionable urbanites and lovers of the great outdoors, good food, good wines and a remarkable heritage, which is full of surprises; this is the destination for travellers who break the rules and who prefer a sensory awakening to the flashy, overcrowded coasts. Here, you quickly find yourself in the heart of the vineyards, surrounded by centuries-old wine cellars, thousand-year-old castles, Romanesque churches, navigable canals and rivers, Michelin-starred restaurants and charming accommodation to lay your head at night. We celebrate the good, the beautiful, and concrete and gourmet pleasures, which has made our wines and gastronomy known around the world.

I am generous; and so are the residents. The winegrowers like to share their stories which allow us to understand why their wine is so good. Producers reveal the secrets behind their star products: Dijon mustard, gingerbread, Charolais meat, Bresse poultry, Burgundy truffle, Flavigny anise... Our great chefs demonstrate their generosity with fine food.

The famous produce (Vosne-Romanée, Nuits-Saint-Georges, Gevrey-Chambertin...) and the great UNESCO sites, rub shoulders with the gentle slopes of the discreet Morvan mountain, a regional natural park.

I am all that and more, I am... Designed by Burgundy.

Montagnes du Jura

TOUT UN MONDE DEHORS

I am told that I am reassuring, authentic, welcoming! People love my wild side, softened by the gentle slopes of the mountains. If you come here, you have to love life and authenticity. You want to refocus on real values, on the simple things in life that we sometimes tend to forget. A timely return to your roots. Conditioned by my climate and my landscapes, the local mountain villagers have kept the traditions and expertise alive, which they now share with open and curious visitors. All over my territory, we reconnect with nature and we pause our hectic life. We open our hearts wide. The wise traveller learns to contemplate. Athletes find this to be an exceptional playground. I love families too. They feel at home here.

In summer, my pastures are an intense green, and the colours of my many forests are reflected in my lakes. My waterfalls rumble away. Water gushes out everywhere. Outdoor adventurers meet walking along my trails, on paddle boards on my lakes, and on mountain bikes in the heart of my Regional Natural Park. In winter, I offer my sparkling grandeur to fans of Nordic activities, who are surprised by such pristine spaces. People compare me to Lapland and Scandinavia... to all those beautiful, exotic countries. My slopes are suitable for athletic descents and for gentle introductions. Most of the time, my peaks offer breathtaking views and you would think you could almost touch Mont-Blanc.

I am a cocoon of sweetness in the middle of abundant nature. I am... the Jura Mountains.

MASSIF DES VOSGES

I am a four-season destination, sought after by responsible travellers who yearn for a gentle way of life, where they can slow down and appreciate things better. 'Slow tourism' fits right in here. My residents, generous and welcoming by nature, take care of all that. Nature flourishes everywhere here. You could say we look after it locally. And that's true! I have lost count of the nature reserves that stretch over my domain, not to mention my Regional Natural Park of which I am so proud. Fauna and flora have established themselves. I watch over my wolves, deer, chamois... Sometimes our respectful travellers meet them on my paths.

I am also the most forested destination in France and everywhere around me there is water. Visitors on foot, on horseback or by bike, can follow my 18,000 km of trails, explore my thematic routes, discover my cités de caractère, walk along the shores of my 1,000 ponds, and enjoy the freshness of my 80 lakes. I offer diverse landscapes with a range of surprising colours. High brush, peat bogs, beech groves fir trees or calcareous grassland add a touch of originality to my backdrop. My forests, valleys, gorges and mountain make up rich and varied environments. Therefore, my visitors have a whole range of nature activities to choose from, between heaven and earth.

From the top of its hill, the Ronchamp chapel, a masterpiece by Le Corbusier or the Lion of Belfort, or a majestic sculpture by Bartholdi, seem to protect this large natural space which forges my identity and from which I draw my strength.

I am... the Vosges Massif.

A REGION for a healthy LIFESTYLE

At the dawn of a more responsible era, Burgundy-Franche-Comté is the centre of attention. A welcoming region that is open to new ideas, accessible and deeply human, environmentally friendly and unspoilt, it offers an ideal environment for entrepreneurs, residents or travellers seeking an approachable, healthy lifestyle. Nature, culture, way of life, gastronomy or traditions ... The region allows everyone to find the pleasure of human relationships rich in meaning, and beautiful and good things. So in 2021, how about we swap our plane ticket for a green, respectful and rejuvenating adventure in Burgundy-Franche-Comté?

ORGANIC, NATURALLY

Responsible and committed, Burgundy-Franche-Comté has drawn the outlines of a healthier and more benevolent lifestyle while respecting its heritage, residents, and flora and fauna. In 2021, holidays will be respectful, without sacrificing pleasure, comfort or modernity. Green tourism 'à la française' could well take root here in Burgundy-Franche-Comté...

With its thousands of kilometres of hiking and cycling trails, canals and rivers, its gentle mountains, many lakes and forests, and legendary vines, its biodiversity and people, who perpetuate traditions and expertise, Burgundy-Franche-Comté is a region which lends itself perfectly to healthy and sustainable tourism. And because nature is fragile, the region works daily to preserve its exceptional landscapes that look like other places: National Forest Park, Regional Natural Parks, Grand Sites de France, UNESCO World Heritage Sites, preserved spaces, high-speed development of eco-friendly transport, short circuits, nature guides, responsible accommodation... Each year, there are new places and respectful initiatives revealing the most beautiful faces of Burgundy-Franche-Comté.

More than ever in 2021, the region is aware of the challenges that surround it. Responsible tourism, eco-holidays, slow tourism, healthy lifestyle, well-being within reach... Beyond fashionable concepts, these major themes distil their values in new local options that make sense.

A REGION WHICH CELEBRATES ITS LOCAL PRODUCERS

The new platform, www.jveuxdulocalbfc.fr - launched by the Regional Chamber of Agriculture and supported by the Regional Council of Burgundy-Franche-Comté and the departmental councils - gives pride of place to regional produce and local producers' expertise. The aim is to maintain the new good habits acquired during lockdown by giving visibility to farmers and by helping consumers to find local producers. On the site, there are more than 1000 geo-located producers, together with recipes, testimonials from chefs, traders promoting local products, portraits, outings, markets and soon, agritourism addresses.

□ WELL-BEING OPPORTUNITIES... designed by BURGUNDY □

From its abundant nature, Burgundy creates produce of excellence. Wines, gastronomy, blackcurrant, wood, thermal waters ... The territory is full of 100% natural riches that some well-informed Burgundians have been able to cleverly divert, from their original function. Focus on beauty products, recommended places for well-being and rejuvenation, designed by Burgundy.

In Burgundy, we know how to live well and eat well, but we also know how to take care of our body and our mind. From Burgundy grapes, we draw famous nectars that are renowned throughout the world ... but also active ingredients with surprising antioxidant and anti-ageing properties. Vinésime and Spa Bourgogne Cosmétiques, two dynamic Burgundy brands are at the forefront of beauty products with their ranges based on grapes. Environmentally friendly, healthy and effective.

In the heart of the Meursault vines, you could also be tempted by a fruitithérapie® treatment at La Cueillette hotel-spa. An anti-oxidant concept, based on the medicinal properties of blackcurrant, strawberries, raspberries, red currants, etc. Little red berries packed with minerals, vitamins and trace elements!

And we can discover Cleopatra's beauty secrets near Cluny, on the Way of Santiago de Compostela. Julie, a certified organic producer, offers her Ânesses de Julie range of soaps and natural face and body treatments made from donkey milk.

GENEROUS FORESTS ...

Vines and forests cover 36% of the regional territory (5th most wooded area in France). It is the perfect location for sylvotherapy, alongside Florence Guérin and her peers, specialists in Shinrin-Yoku, or forest bathing, which is very popular in Japan. This art of soaking up the beneficial atmosphere created by trees is the hot new well-being treatment among tired and stressed city dwellers. In these forest landscapes, populated with hundred-year-old oaks, we also meet the Charlois family, from Nevers, who love the oaks, symbols of longevity and strength, from which they were able to draw a revolutionary anti-ageing concentrate called La Chênaie. Gourmets Burgundians? Yes, but also ingenious and inspiring!

AQUATIC GAMES AND INSTANT SPAS

This green landscape, criss-crossed with pure sources with virtuous properties. Three thermal spas, most of them specialising in rheumatology, have established the area's reputation. And now, Santenay, better known for its wine than its water, has revived its past as a spa. Managed by ValVital, this sleeping beauty will reawaken in March 2021 with the opening of a thermal spa, ideally located in the heart of the vineyards.

The only spa in Nièvre, Saint-Honoré-les-Bains is equipped with a new thermal leisure pool. An establishment with neo-classical architecture opening onto the Morvan Regional Natural Park... 100% regenerating!

Talking of spas, charming hotels are reinventing themselves to meet more 'zen' or responsible desires. Two new spas imagined and designed for absolute disconnection are not to be missed. Committed to its environmental approach, the Moulin des Templiers in Vézelay promotes a 'slow life'. Its new wooden spa has a plant-based roof and is surrounded by abundant nature. In Beaune, the Hostellerie Cèdre & Spa***** is opening its new spa, signed by Nuxe and offers a signature treatment inspired by the potions created in the 15th century in the Hospices de Beaune apothecary. A designed by Burgundy exclusive!

For an elegant weekend of well-being with your loved one, head for the Côte Saint-Jacques & Spa***** in Joigny. This venue is conducive to rest and two new spaces invite you to let go: the new Deluxe room with private jacuzzi on the terrace and view over the Yonne and the new private VIP area with hammam, Japanese bath and relaxation area... And the two-star gastronomy is a bonus!

WHAT'S NEW IN CYCLING?

Véloù has created the free itinerary of the future. What's the concept? Cyclists don't need to pick up their bikes (all terrain, electric...), their bikes come to them. The Véloù team drops them off at customers' accommodation and picks them up within a radius of 20 km around Verdun-sur-le-Doubs in Saône-et-Loire.... Which leaves plenty of time to go to Beaune, capital of Burgundy wines, and enjoy cheerful, local, respectful cuisine at the Cantine de l'Imprimerie. A real moment to share that you'll want to tell everyone about.

In Nevers, we stop at the Café Vélo, a new concept where you can drink good coffee and eat delicious homemade cakes and snacks... And that's not all! These bike enthusiasts treat their cycling guests, whether touring or leisure, with great care. There are bike racks at the entrance, small tools, pumps, padlocks, etc. Upstairs, two apartments are available for touring cyclists on the Loire à Vélo.

Domaine Une Envie de Nature - Clamerey

NEW UNUSUAL ACCOMMODATION

Choosing from our selection of new unusual accommodation, holidaymakers will be even closer to nature in 2021. Known for its accommodation at the water's edge, the family estate at Une Envie de Nature in Clamerey is just a stone's throw from the Canal de Bourgogne. It is now offering a rather crazy but utterly charming option: a reproduction of the house of the gentle half-giant, Rubeus Hagrid. With a stone exterior and garden full of pumpkins, it has a wooden interior, fireplace, half-giant tables and chairs, and suspended baskets, and is lit by candles... An environmentally friendly plunge into the world of Harry Potter and made in... Burgundy!

A social and architectural movement advocating simplicity by living in small houses, the tiny house movement has also arrived in Burgundy. In Beaune, we find the 1st French tiny house hotel: les Cabottes.

Wooden micro-houses have been installed facing the Hautes Côtes de Beaune vines, far from the urban hustle and bustle, for an unusual and exotic disconnection.

Still in the 'Tiny' world, the roulotte du Moulin d'Avoine gypsy caravan, near Tournus - an authentic 13th century mill - is also an original glamping experience. A cocoon surrounded by an idyllic landscape, bathed by the Doue and surrounded by horses, goats, poultry and Highland cows.

A LOOK AT PERMACULTURE

A technique inspired by nature, permaculture opens the way to a greener and more responsible farming. No more tilling and weeding. With permaculture, we let nature work for us... The evidence can be found at the jardins d'Alônys in Cury, a permaculture, agro-biology and biodynamics eco-centre. A mandala garden, animals, pick your own, sensory spaces and a collection of aromatics...

A 3.5 hectare Zen site, where you can quickly forget your worries.

In Saint-Bris-le-Vineux, on the Ulteria farm, Claire Genet is realising a childhood dream: 100% organic farm in permaculture, goat breeding, sale of cheeses and specialties, walks with goats in Auxerre, rental of space for seminars ...

She was elected 'Icaunaise* of the year 2019' and deserves a designed by Burgundy spotlight!

GET MOVING... BREATHE!

Here is a list of 'gentle sports' to stimulate your body and your mind. To start, an absolute favourite, a gentle workout on the peaks of the Solutré and Vergisson rocks. Iconic and exceptional, this Grand Site de France offers an ideal place for yoga, pilates or Qi Gong. We fully reconnect with nature, refuel our energy and develop self-confidence.

In Bibracte, Grand Site de France in the heart of the Morvan, we take our shoes off for a 2km barefoot walk with raptors. Mischievous and acrobatic, the birds fly around the hikers, sometimes brushing against them, posing for amusing shots or suddenly go off hunting for prey. Why barefoot? Because walking barefoot is being aware of your environment, reducing your stress and reconnecting with your inner child.

In our walking with animals section, we set off with Axelle and Laurent for a dog hike accompanied by a Siberian husky or a Greenland dog. A perfect moment between human and animal, where we can make the most of the serene, vast forest and unspoilt landscapes of the Grand Autunois Morvan.

◇ THE GOOD LIFE in the JURA MOUNTAINS ◇

What if we reconsider how we travel? There's no need to travel to the other side of the world for a unique experience. Sometimes you can get away from it all where you don't expect it... Head to the Jura Mountains, a destination where you can let go... Quite simply!

An immaculate white landscape in winter and with every nuance in summer, village resorts that favour 'authenticity', wild and unspoilt forests... With their round and wooded slopes, and invigorating climate, the Jura Mountains offer a real break in nature to refuel. In both winter and summer, they break the clichés, step away from mass tourism and give meaning to our holidays.

In summer, we leave the marked roads in search of a diverse local fauna. With its varied environments (lakes, forests, rivers, mountains, waterfalls, etc.) the destination has managed to preserve a very diverse fauna (and flora) including the boreal lynx, chamois, great grouse and other peregrine falcons... A paradise for animals!

On the Grandes Traversées du Jura trails, on foot, by bike or on horseback, we learn to appreciate the silence again and to awaken our senses. In Salins-les Bains, we can make the most of the waters, which are more dense in minerals than the Dead Sea, to improve our sleep and reduce stress levels. In Lons-le-Saunier, sodium chloride, magnesia, mineralised waters rich in trace elements strengthen bone construction, relieve pain and reduce chronic inflammations... Concentrated white gold to restore health!

In winter, the Jura Mountains have a whole different face. With snow covering the summits, plains, valleys and forests, they invite us to give free rein to our first instincts, to experience adventures that come from the Great North... Off-piste snowshoes, sled dogs, backcountry, ice skating on frozen lakes, ice diving... pristine snow-covered areas that undeniably remind us of Scandinavia, Lapland or Canada. The non-conformist, environmentally friendly traveller, in need of space and freedom, will find their escape in the Jura Mountains, a place to get away from it all, here they can recharge their batteries and breathe in fresh air!

RECHARGE YOUR BATTERIES AT NIGHT, TO MAKE THE MOST OF THE DAY

ROOM WITH A VIEW

Nestled on the foothills of the Brégille hill in Besançon, Les Terrasses bed and breakfast provides the 'Wow' factor immediately. As soon as you arrive, you are captivated by the breathtaking view. A 180° view of the town, with its 7 hills and citadel, and, above all, the 6,000 m<sup>2</sup> of landscaped gardens, with fountains, carp ponds, themed terraces, topiaries, swimming pool, and Japanese steps, promise peaceful relaxation surrounded by nature. In the bedroom, there is the same promise of quality and care: an extra wide bay window offering a magical show after dark, breakfast area, private sauna and other amenities including the essential pétanque court. Perfect disconnection!

In Besançon, we also like the Hôtel Victor Hugo & Spa****, which has been completely renovated. Equipped with a 300 m<sup>2</sup> fitness area with heated outdoor swimming pool, two spas, a hammam, a sensory shower, a salt wall, a sauna and a relaxation room, the establishment offers relaxing stays in the heart of the famous writer's home town.

MEANWHILE, IN GERMIGNEY...

By the end of 2021, the Château de Germigney, a magnificent 18th century bourgeois residence, surrounded by the most serene and relaxing park, will be home to a sublime Relais & Châteaux spa, in perfect harmony with nature, the region and its history, especially the links with 'white gold' and local wines. It will feature exclusive halotherapy treatments (healing by salt) and wine therapy (grapes used in cosmetics), a leisure pool, sensory space (hammam...), salt cave, outdoor jacuzzi, massage cabins, and a gym and solarium with views of the park... Eight new contemporary rooms will have direct access to this 500 m<sup>2</sup> wellness area.

SLEEP IN A CABIN

Wouldn't you love to sleep in a wood cabin? Halfway between a gypsy caravan and a comfortable house, the Écogîte® Tiny-house at the Haute-Molune in La Pesse is a real cabin of its time, combining ecology and minimalism for an alternative lifestyle. Open from summer 2021 as self-catering or bed and breakfast.

Further south, in Izieu in the Bugey, five funny wooden structures emerged during summer 2020. Codename: Kotas Finland'Ain, a little play on words representing a successful marriage between two cultures and lands.

Still in Ain, the Lodges de la ViaRhôna the port of Virignin offer a choice between Robinson Crusoe-style treehouses, lodge tents or cosy cabins with private spa.

Unusual accommodation on the edge of the ViaRhôna, the 815 kilometre long EuroVeloroute 17, which connects the alpine mountains to the beaches of the Camargue. An ideal stopover for tourist cyclists who like to get off the beaten track, even at night!

RENT A PRIVATE LAKE AND ITS LUXURIOUS ECO-CHALET

In a natural setting, not far from the famous Herisson waterfalls and the turquoise blue water of Lake Chalain, you can find a perfect spot you'd like to keep to yourselves. In Doucier, in the heart of the Jura Mountains, the Domaine du Lac de Chambly is an irresistible little corner of paradise for nature lovers.

It's hard to imagine that this luxurious larch chalet (labelled 4 stars by Gîtes de France), worthy of the most beautiful interior magazines, was, until a few years ago, a hunting lodge. The warm and refined interior can accommodate up to 10 people.

But the chalet also comes with a private 35 hectare lake and pontoon, at the end of which a small boat is moored. From the pontoon, you can dive into clear water, turning from blue to emerald green. Oars in hand, we escape for a fishing trip, alone or with friends, only to be disturbed by a few bleaks, pike-perch, pike, carp, whitefish, roach or perch.

The entire estate (100 ha) is fenced to keep put prying eyes. A real return to nature, with top-level comfort!

○ RECHARGE YOUR BATTERIES in the SOUTHERN VOSGES ○

*In the Southern Vosges, we listen to nature, we observe it and we immerse ourselves in it.
This land with wild accents is a true natural refuge where it's good to find yourself again.
Portrait of a human territory and an eco-tourism destination with everything in clear view.*

A green lung which, seen from the sky, forms a long, bumpy green line stretching from north to south, the Vosges Massif well deserves its reputation as an ecological paradise. Head for the Southern Vosges in Burgundy-Franche-Comté, a region historically committed to protecting the environment. At the heart of this pro-nature land is the Ballons des Vosges Regional Natural Park - with an area of 4,200 km<sup>2</sup> - which is home to the Ballon d'Alsace, a Natura 2000 site and protected area. With its Quiétude attitude programme, the Massif is going even further by ensuring the respect and tranquility of the natural world. Forests, mysterious 1000 Ponds, calcerous grassland, waterfalls and rivers, stubble and peat bogs, make the Southern Vosges a wonderful refuge for a very diverse flora and fauna. A formidable open-air observatory, where forest cats, lynx and large grouse navigate through a rich array of plants: arnica, firs, wild orchids, blueberries, heather, ferns, silver birch trees... You can observe and understand alongside experienced guides or in dedicated environment centres.

In the heart of this luxuriant vegetation there are hundreds of marked trails and paths: an Eden for hikers, on foot, by bike or on horseback, for lovers of the great outdoors and nature. You can also join the Grande Traversée of the Vosges Massif or the brand new Voie Bleue – Moselle-Saône by bike, an 800km cycle route connecting Luxembourg to Lyon, along the wild tow-paths of the Canal des Vosges, then through the Saône Valley with its Cities of Character.

COMMUNICATE WITH THE TREES

For thousands of years, the forest has been the essential heritage of the Vosges region, the DNA of a territory and guide to the life of its residents. Today, more than ever, it is the perfect place for accessing well-being, the awakening of the senses and letting go. An approach recognised for its benefits, forest bathing has therefore found a privileged site here. So much so that about twenty guides specialising in sylvotherapy invite you to immerse yourself in the forest, from north to south in the massif. 'Distress' walks par excellence, punctuated by five senses workshops, away from the noise and bustle of everyday life.

PURE WATER SOURCES

Under the canopy lies a dense network of rivers, often peaceful and calm, sometimes fiercely transformed into invigorating waterfalls. At an altitude of 300 metres, ideally located at the foot of the Southern Vosges, near the 1000 Ponds, Luxeuil-les-Bains, an ancient thermal city, has been able to use the springs gushing forth from its soils. The Romans loved the warm, salty waters and built the oldest thermal baths in France, now decorated with pink sandstone from the Vosges and beautiful mosaics.

Hydrating, energising, purifying but above all vital and precious, water in the Southern Vosges is also bottled in Velleminfroy, a village that, since 1828, has hidden a virtuous source with exceptional laxative and diuretic effects. In its transparent and prettily decorated packaging, Velleminfroy water has found its place on many French tables... A 'longevity' water, guaranteed to not contain nitrate, pesticides, drugs and plastic micro-particles!

WOULD YOU PREFER TO FLOAT ON THE WATER OR SLEEP IN THE TREES?

"Because we believe that a moment is never experienced so well as when we lose track of time, we offer you a place over which time has no hold". This is the life philosophy of Gaspard and Emmanuel, two people who are passionate about nature, tourism and sustainable development. They created a concept of environmentally friendly and innovative holidays several years ago: Coucoo.

In Joncherey, in the Belfort region, the treehouses or floating accommodation at Coucoo Grands Reflets blend into the backdrop of the Verchat pond. To meet exponential demand, the site has been enhanced with six new cabins and a wellness area offering massages and yoga classes. A holiday which marries nature and comfort, for 100% disconnection.

HEALTH IS IN THE GARDEN

If the garden is a source of balance for everyone, for the sick, whether physically or mentally, there are multiple benefits: improvement in well-being, in sleep, reduction of stress-management medication... In the Vallée de l'Ognon, the Jardin du Clos Ballot in Chancey - recently awarded the 'Jardin remarquable' label - also has the distinction of being a 'Jardins & Santé' garden.

GREAT OFFERS FOR HOLIDAYS BETWEEN LAND AND WATER

In the peaceful Saône-Valley marina, our feet almost in the water, we can enjoy the natural setting of the 'Little Saône', one of the most 'natural' rivers in France, also recognised for its halieutic quality. What do we love? The 'one chalet, one boat' concept.

100% NATURE

Nature par excellence, the Burgundy-Franche-Comté region takes care of city dwellers in search of serenity and well-being. Treat yourself to some countryside, navigate gently on the canals, taste the sweetness of life in unspoiled valleys, climb the peaks of medium-sized mountains, bivouac at altitude, admire the flora in the meadows, rediscover the fauna in the forests: this region has something of everything! It is also full of positive energies and promises for all those who are on the move ...

Welcome to a region that lives in total harmony with nature.

THE FOUR SEASONS

It's a sweet melody of happiness. A country air, a mountain chorus, a hymn to nature. Few regions have the chance to live each season with so much vigour and happiness.

At any time, in the heart of winter, in the mildness of autumn, the renewal of spring or the fervour of summer, Burgundy-Franche-Comté has something to say and to offer. The days go by, the seasons pass and the agenda never looks gloom...

There's no downtime for this region which lives to the rhythm of the seasons!

Autumn in Burgundy is a magical moment: the grape harvest has just been completed and the winemakers' festivals get underway. The forests are adorned with gold and in a swirl of yellow, orange and red, the warm hues glide over the vineyard. First a row, then an entire plot, and finally miles of vines in the colours of autumn...

Then winter tiptoes in, the Jura Mountains stretch out their arms and the Vosges Massif is watching us. The snow-capped peaks, the breathtaking panoramas, the pleasures of winter sports, fondue by the fire: it's hard to resist!

In spring, all over the region, along the canals and rivers, in pastures or in the undergrowth, in the heart of the natural parks, the flora reclaims its rights and offers a grandiose spectacle.

In Burgundy-Franche-Comté, the arrival of summer is announced by hikers! On foot, by bike, on horseback or aboard a boat, everyone chooses their favourite way to get around, season after season from the different options on offer:

Sailing: on the Bourgogne, Nivernais or Centre Canals. Or on the Saône, with its ideal sailing conditions, without forgetting the Doubs which offers, over 200 kilometres, a cruise with some lovely places to stop off.

Pedalling: crossed by the EuroVelo 6 which connects the Atlantic to the Black Sea, the region also flirts with the Francovélosuisse. Taking the Tour de Bourgogne à Vélo®, cyclists gently cover the kilometres while day trippers set off on the famous climb of the Planches-Belles-Filles. And for thrill seekers, head for the mountains for the Grandes Traversées du Morvan or Jura on a mountain bike.

Walking: a little walk to aid digestion a stone's throw from the vineyards of Burgundy and Jura, an ultra-athletic hike to the top of a mountain ridge, a spiritual escape on the Way of Santiago de Compostela or on the Via Francigena...

The hardest thing is choosing!

COUNTRYSIDE SCRAPBOOK designed by BURGUNDY

Burgundy creates postcards. Seen from the sky, its vineyards create an astonishing puzzle which would be perfect to get lost in. This ocean of vines, shaped by men for millennia, offers an incredible playground for curious epicureans.

Whether they are clinging to the sloping hillsides of the Roche de Solutré, nestled near a romantic château, wrapped around a prestigious wine estate, or far from the beaten track, the Burgundy vines have endless stories to tell. Grape varieties, 'Climats' listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site, vintages, expertise passed down from generation to generation, winemaking secrets shared in the intimacy of a cellar: Burgundy cannot simply be tasted, it is experienced through a generous and genuine initiation.

WINE... AND WATER!

Just take a look at a map of Burgundy to imagine gentle and peaceful breaks on the water. With more than 1200 kilometres of canals and rivers, it has one of the most important navigable networks in France: obviously, we think of the iconic Canal de Bourgogne and its cousins, the Nivernais and Centre canals. But we mustn't forget the Yonne, the Saône and the Seille of course, with their ideal sailing conditions.

The Morvan Regional Natural Park is also a favourite among nature lovers. The first mountain on the outskirts of Paris, this massif covered with forests and dotted with lakes is much more than a stopover on your way to your holidays. It alone embodies another Burgundy: more secret, more discreet and always full of charm. If the winters are harsh and give the Morvan an air of Canada, spring brings out the bright, peaceful countryside. In summer, its freshness and calm make it a popular destination for city dwellers and mountain bikers – the Grande Traversée du Massif Central – starts here to reach Sète and the Mediterranean. You can never tire of the wonderful landscapes: sunset over the Saint-Agnan lake, the powerful energy of the Canche Gorges, or the simplicity of a picnic in the forest. And, of course, there are the cultural stops in Vézelay or Bibracte.

Silence and wonder await hiking enthusiasts in the National Forest Park of Champagne and Bourgogne, 11th national park in France. In these immense protected forests, deer, black storks and wild cats live in perfect harmony and sometimes show the tips of their noses...

 A man in a blue polo shirt and dark shorts is riding a bicycle on a stone path. A woman in a patterned dress and a hat is also riding a bicycle further back on the same path. They are surrounded by lush green vineyards and stone walls.

100% blue white and red

The Canalous, is first and foremost the story of a Burgundy family which, over time, became the leading 100% French river boat rental company. From Saône-et-Loire to Nièvre, from Bresse to the Belfort region, everything is possible... without a licence! In 2021, a new, large live aboard boat, which sleeps 12 in double cabins – la péniche F will be berthed, exclusively, at Pontallier-sur-Saône.

Another innovation is day rental for boats at most of the bases (Digoïn, Pontallier-sur-Saône and Briare).

Half an hour of instruction is all that is required to take control of this very comfortable vessel. It should satisfy the most demanding customers, because Nicols interviewed 10,000 French and foreign pleasure boaters in order to design the perfect boat: the Octo Fly C!

JURA MOUNTAINS

THERE'S A WHOLE WORLD OUT THERE!

*L*akes, waterfalls, steephead valleys, gorges, cliffs, cirques, ridges, caves, canyons, peat bogs: now you can revise your geography with real examples. In a living and inhabited mountain, we learn to read the landscape season after season, to understand all its faces.

In the middle of winter, let yourself be tempted by the pleasures of skiing. With 21 Nordic resorts and 3 Alpine ski resorts (Les Rousses, Métabief and Monts-Jura), the Jura Mountains destination lends itself to a whole range of outdoor activities: marking your route on cross-country ski trails, an out of the ordinary hike on snowshoes, playing mushers with sled dogs, hurtling down the red slopes, smiling... This great breath of fresh air can be enjoyed again and again and with the family. It must be said that here, we are far from the crowd and the bling-bling atmosphere of some of the XXL ski resorts.

There is no shortage of space in the Jura Mountains! From north in Doubs to south in Ain, they smoothly cover nearly 400 kilometres. A regional natural park, fantastic landscapes, mysterious valleys, vertiginous viewpoints and lakes with turquoise water: almost everywhere you can feel the omnipotence of Mother Nature. With the arrival of sunny days and until autumn, bedecked in fiery colours, the Jura Mountains can be explored fully. We enter a grandiose rocky cirque on the Baume-les-Messieurs side, we follow dinosaurs on the trail at the Loulle site, we remain frozen in front of the 'chapeau de gendarme', a rock that is folded like a sheet, we pierce the secrets of the rocks nibbled by the water from the bridge over the Valserine and we set off to conquer the Frasne peat bogs, a rare ecosystem whose landscapes strangely make you think of the tundra. No need for long speeches, here nature has dictated the rules of the game for millennia.

DID YOU KNOW?

Chalain is the site of a lakeside town discovered in 1904. According to archaeologists, from the Neolithic to the Bronze Age (between 4000 and 750 BC JC), our ancestors would have built villages on stilts there! Too fragile to be open to the public, this site is listed by UNESCO as a site of prehistoric dwellings in the Alpine Arc and cannot be accessed. # ○ SOUTHERN VOSGES

a thirst for DISCOVERY ○

The northern tip of Burgundy-Franche-Comté hides an astonishing region. Wild and secret, in love with the land, discreet and opulent, refined and down-to-earth the Southern Vosges are stirring things up!

To understand them, we can follow the water that never sleeps... Known for over 1,000 years for its hot springs, a small spa town is bubbling away: Luxeuil-les-Bains. A little further on, eau de vie is warming the heart of the mythical Fougerolles distilleries. And we mustn't forget Velleminfroy water, the region's only natural mineral water.

It's also to water that we owe one of the most incredible sites in Southern Vosges: the Plateau des 1000 Ponds. Forests as far as the eye can see, clinging between the Ognon and the Breuchin valleys. An unspoiled eco-system A strange and captivating labyrinth of ponds... This landscape, shaped during the Ice Age, has gradually been tamed by man. Farmers work the land tirelessly, innkeepers provide refreshment around the ponds, fishermen relax and mountain bikers cover kilometres of varying routes.

Even more surprisingly, water has also been instrumental in the Eurockéennes de Belfort: each year this music festival sets up its stages on the Malsaucy peninsula, a perfect setting in a protected natural area (Malsaucy and La Véronne). And when the music lovers depart this natural idyll, they make room for the holidaymakers who take advantage of a nautical base so close to the town. A few kilometres further on, we find the Ballons des Vosges Regional Natural Park and the Ballon d'Alsace: 1,247 metres high, it stands out on the horizon and concentrates all the joy of nature.

The promise of intense sporting adventures, like several of the Tour de France stages. 13% climb to start, and then 20% to the peak: the famous Planche des Belles Filles has left many riders a little short of breath!

SHADES of STONE

Cluny Abbey

©Alain DOIRE - BFC Tourisme

Seen from the sky, Burgundy-Franche-Comté is full of colour! Certainly, the green and blue of its landscapes predominate, but it has many other nuances too. Ochre, pink, blue, beige, white, yellow, or grey, like the stones which have been used in so many fortresses, castles, citadels, churches, abbeys and other remarkable and listed sites. A living memory of past centuries, they are the thread that connects us with a rich history. Curious tourists are always enthusiastic... And what if we were this time?

◊ EVERY SHADE! ◊

To know a region, there is nothing like delving into its history.

Burgundy-Franche-Comté has an important cultural heritage and historical, visible and palpable examples of its wealth, and therefore its identity. Land of contrasts, it offers a journey through time... In every shade!

To travel is to go back through history and here, History permeates the landscape.

The region can be proud of its heritage: caves, archaeological sites, theatres and old towns, fortifications, châteaux and historical monuments including the Palace of the Dukes in Dijon, picturesque little cities (sixty or so labelled Cités de caractère), ancestral expertise, and eight exceptional sites: The Royal Saltworks in Arc-et-Senans and the Grande Saline in Salins-les-Bains, the Vauban Citadel in Besançon, Notre-Dame-du-Haut Chapel in Ronchamp (Le Corbusier), Fontenay Abbey, Basilica of Vézelay, Church and priory of La Charité-sur-Loire on the Way of Santiago de Compostela, the prehistoric sites in Chalain and Clairvaux and the 'Climats' from the Burgundy vineyards.

RED LIKE THE PASSION THAT DWELLS WITHIN THEM!

The region has borne the brunt of great battles that have marked its people, its cities and its landscapes. Its coveted geographical position has taught it to fight to preserve its borders and to protect its inhabitants. Its geology has given it a mutinous and resistant nature, as shown by the rebels Besançon, Belfort and Dole or the Morvan Resistance who were able to repel invaders with courage, demonstrating an obstinacy whenever tested.

Everywhere, from north to south, the region bears evidence of its great thinkers and utopians, sometimes subversive warriors. In Mâcon, the alleys, museums and landscapes are steeped in Lamartine, an anti-conformist poet of the region who was committed to the abolition of slavery. It is also on the Abolition of Slavery Route or during the stages at the National Memorial that we meet men and women who were united by the same cause. Anne-Marie Javouhey, liberator of slaves in Guyana (Anne-Marie Javouhey Memory Forest in Chamblanc-Seurre and Jallanges), or the residents of Champagny in Haute-Saône, who, in their grievances book of 1789, launched the first appeal against the slave trade and black slavery (Maison de la Négritude et des Droits de l'Homme). And not forgetting Toussaint Louverture, the leader of the slave uprising at the Château de Joux.

These places constitute a shared identity, a collective memory that make the link between the past and the present.

It is also about preservation of biodiversity and sustainable development at the Museum, dialogue between cultures and society at the Comtois Museum, and awareness raising at the Museum of Resistance and Deportation... By exploring the Citadel and its museums, visitors learn from the past, in order to understand today and act tomorrow. Relevant and full of meaning!

Sit for a few minutes on the 'Musical Chairs' (recently) installed throughout the citadel to listen to the sweetness of 17th and 18th century preludes and sonatas and enjoy a moment of relaxation looking at the horizon... It's as if time stands still, in the heart of this imposing fortress.

A NEW TYMPANUM FOR VÉZELAY

We're not talking about the internal workings of the ear, but one of the most impressive and famous elements of the Basilica of Vézelay. Undergoing restoration since 2019, the tympanum hanging over the basilica's main portal had to be protected from the ravages of time. Long months of work by goldsmiths' were necessary to secure the sculpted façade, materialising the passage between everyday life and the sacred world. We see, among other things, a Christ of superhuman size, with rays of fire falling from his hands onto the heads of the twelve apostles. A masterpiece of Romanesque art intended to welcome the many pilgrims on the Way of Santiago de Compostela.

BURGUNDY: multicoloured DESTINATION

INSIGHT

Unmissable in Dijon:
the sumptuous Palace of the Dukes and State of Burgundy, the beating heart of the city of Dijon, which houses the Museum of Fine Arts.

musees.dijon.fr/palais-ducs

We imagine the region in gold, copper, garnet and green, the official dress of the wine regions. But Burgundy is more than its wonderful wines, which date back to antiquity.

Just open your eyes wide to take in and appreciate the full range of coloured nuances to be found in destination Burgundy.

WHITE, BEIGE, YELLOW, PINK, GREY

Burgundy is, above all, the history of the most famous Dukes of France and their fabulous châteaux (Bussy-Rabutin, Ancy-le-Franc, Châteauneuf-en-Auxois, Couches, Pierre de Bresse, Brancion...), iconic monuments (Hospices de Beaune...), and many Romanesque buildings. We have the greatest concentration in France (Fontenay, Cluny and Saint-Philibert de Tournus Abbeys, Vézelay and Paray-le-Monial Basilicas, Saint-Étienne d'Auxerre Cathedral, the Brionnais Romanesque churches...). We have lost count of the exceptional historical and religious sites, which are all places to visit for lovers of history. In Burgundy, a noble stone dominates, inspiring architects, landscapers, designers and decorators from all over the world. Oscillating between yellow, ochre, white, pink and sometimes bluish tones, Burgundy stone was used for the Louvre Museum and the Opéra and in the base of the Eiffel Tower, the Fondation Louis Vuitton, the British Museum and the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New-York....

A little more discreet, the cabottes add a splash of beige in the middle of the Côtes de Nuits and Beaune vines. Further south, we find the cadolos. These old winegrowers' huts, listed, built in dry limestone, testify to the long history of wine in the region.

Picturesque and typical!

MULTICOLOURED STAINED GLASS WINDOWS AND TILES

To admire the most beautiful polychrome architecture in Burgundy, you just need to look up. An emblem of the region, the multi-coloured tiles adorn the roofs of the Hôtel-Dieu de Beaune, the Château de Santenay and the Château de Corton André, to name just a few remarkable examples.

Saint-Pierre's Church in Louhans

They can also be admired in Louhans, Dijon (Saint-Bénigne Cathedral, Hôtel de Vogüé, Aubriot mansion, hospital), Sens (Synod Palace) and Ecuisses on the Villa Perrusson (an extravagant residence and showcase for the Perrusson expertise: glazed, coloured tiles, elements of the façade in ceramic...). Art craftsmanship still maintained today by a few local passionate artisans.

When it comes to colours, keep your head held high. In Burgundy, you are drawn to the intense and shimmering colours of the rich stained-glass windows adorning the various cathedrals, churches and abbeys found throughout the region. Saint-Etienne's Cathedral in Sens has some of the most beautiful stained-glass in all of France. Through the hours and the seasons, the magic of glass and light transports you to another world, where we meet Jesse and his tree, Saint Stephen, the good Samaritan, and even a flock of angel musicians, all from the Middle Ages. In summer, colours even flood the stones at nightfall, with the magical Lumières de Sens, a poetic light show which mixes history and fantasy. The contemporary stained-glass windows in St Cyr Ste Julitte in Nevers are also worth a visit. Here, the artists Raoul Ubac, Claude Viallat, Gottfried Honegger and Alberola demonstrated their talents as master glassmakers.

In the 'churches' series, off the beaten track, near Blanot in Saône-et-Loire, visit the Romanesque church - built on an old Merovingian necropolis - and its fortified priory. Remarkable for its slender, 22 metre high tower, the clearest sign of Cluny Abbey's influence.

WHAT'S NEW AT THE CHÂTEAUX?

The new life of the château de Maulnes: The hunting lodge of Louise de Clermont, Countess of Tonnerre and friend of Catherine de Médicis, the château de Maulnes in Yonne begins a new life. Left close to ruin for years, the renovation work at this listed historic monument will be completed in 2021. You will finally have the opportunity to discover one of the most original creations of the European Renaissance, with its unique pentagonal shape and central staircase. There will be concerts, a festival, outdoor activities, themed, nocturnal visits... and, above all, a 'Maze château' offering different routes and tours with a touch of adventure.

www.maulnes.com

Things are happening at the château de Bussy-Rabutin: what we love about this magnificent 17th century Renaissance château are the French gardens, with their Jardin remarquable status, but even more so the interior decoration, embellished with some 300 portraits and caustic mottos. Decoration that reflects the passions of the master of the house, especially love. To better understand the gallant man, a new interpretation centre opened in 2020. Love stories and betrayals, mind games and well-understood words, exile and a feeling of injustice, all the elements are there, even the most modern, to enter into the intimacy of the Count of Bussy-Rabutin. A nice appetizer before the opening of the restored sections of the Sarcus wing in 2021. This restoration is being carried out by the Centre des monuments nationaux with the support of the French State and in, particular, thanks to the heritage lottery funds.

SAVE THE DATE: 'L'INDÉPENDANT' CELEBRATES ITS 140TH BIRTHDAY AT THE MUSEUM!

A witness to Burgundian history, L'Indépendant newspaper is 140 years old in 2021. The first edition was printed in Louhans in a small workshop. Now transformed into a 'Printing Museum', the site recreates the atmosphere of yesteryear: linotypes, presses, marbles, pigeon holes, revolving furniture... Everything is here for the ladies and gentlemen of the press!

SUBTERRANEAN DISCOVERY!

Sunday 2 February 2020, during an operation clearing the prehistoric cave in Azé, speleologists made an incredible discovery. After decades of excavating a gallery filled with clay, a new room was revealed, 360 metres from the entrance, and then a second. We will have to wait a little longer before being able to explore these new caverns but, in the meantime, visitors can take advantage of a new tour route available at the site.

CHÂTEAU SECRETS

If you're looking for a medieval setting, with dungeons and knights, look no further than the majestic château de Châteauneuf-en-Auxois, a benevolent sentry overlooking the Canal de Bourgogne. Cross the drawbridge and enter the courtyard. Stroll through the gardens, the rooms, the towers and the chapel. You can also enjoy the well-structured educational activities: follow the guide to the Medieval attic space (unique in France) to explore the roofs.

You can also choose a special 'Matrimoine' visit full of twists and turns, where you will meet the four important women in the history of the château; or you could learn about the art of illuminations or glassmaking... It's a way to really get into the Medieval time and customs.

GREY AND BROWN

Let's forget the green of the forests and mountain pastures, the blue of the rivers, lakes and waterfalls, the white of the winter snow... With a very particular geology and ancestral expertise, two other shades colour the Jura Mountains intensely: set sail for a mineral grey and vegetal brown world.

STONES AND ROCKS

The singularity of the landscapes in the Jura Mountains reveals an eventful geological past. Land shaped by a sea, then a glacier - both now disappeared -, jostled by powerful plate tectonics, it is so original and specific that scientists were inspired by it to designate the 'Jurassic period'.

The Baume-les-Messieurs and les Planches-près-Arbois steephead valleys, the chapeau de Gendarme, Lapiaz, the Loulle site and its dinosaur footprints, the Marmites des Géants and Pertes de la Valserine, the Osselle, Moidons, Cerdon and Baume-les-Messieurs caves, the Poudrey chasm, the Entre-Roches gorge and mini canyon... So many geological amazements with an air of the end of the world.

In the middle of these rugged, wild landscapes you can quite often stumble upon some architectural wonders created by inspired builders. Some hide and others stand proud, sometimes blending with the raw shapes and wild contours of the landscapes that surround them. Castle of Joux, Voltaire, Syam, Cléron, des Allymes or des Ducs de Wurtemberg in Montbéliard, the cités de caractère and listed villages, the Rousses and Saint-Antoine forts, Besançon citadel... Here, the heritage is worth a fresh look.

LET'S PUT A LITTLE SPIRITUALITY IN OUR VISITS

Head for the Remonot cave-chapel, in Les Combes near Morteau in the Watchmaking Country. This mysterious chapel that is sheltered in a cave has a source which has beneficial properties on eye diseases. This was evidenced by a local chemist who, in 2013, miraculously treated his damaged eye. This place of pilgrimage is the only cave in France that is a consecrated 'Catholic Church'. It is found at the foot of an imposing cliff and has a charming little copper bell tower. We like the little mystical side that is touching.

PRECIOUS AND NOBLE WOOD

A region of forests par excellence, the quality of the conifers in the Jura Mountains has been recognised through an Appellation d'Origine Contrôlée, 'Bois du Jura'. A secular tradition stemming from the long and cold Jura winters, woodworking has been anchored for centuries among the peasants in the massif. In the forests, we meet sangliers (not wild boar, but the artisans!) who make the straps used to encircle the Mont d'Or. We also come across tavillonners, artisan wooden tile makers who are gradually dying out... But there are still many Franche-Comte farms covered by tavillons, the small pieces of wood!

In Haut-Doubs, the wood is also used to smoke famous local cured meats. Hanging on wooden poles, hams, strips of bacon, brési, and Morteau sausages are hung in the huge traditional chimneys called tuyés, to be smoked.

Going further to South Jura, the wood artisans have crafted a reputation in the manufacture of briar pipes and wooden toys. In this region, composed of 78% of wooded area, one in two French toys is produced. In the past, turners, fitters and woodworkers made spinning tops, dominoes, racing cars, board games, cubes, wooden horses and other colourful toys. Today, the story continues thanks to some Jura companies (Vilac, JeuJura, Janod) which have transformed this land of tradition into the flagship of toys 'Made in France'.

○ See things through ROSE COLOURED SPECTACLES in the SOUTHERN VOSGES ○

It has no equal for capturing light, its colour palette varying with the sun. From pale gold to purple, whether natural or crafted, pink sandstone is the emblem of an entire massif. Spotlight on the star rock in the Vosges peaks!

As a natural rock, or used in façades, monuments and paths, pink sandstone has coloured the Vosges landscape for 200 million years.

It's no coincidence that this rock is omnipresent in the architecture in the Belfort region. Stronger than the limestone found throughout the region, sandstone was the ideal rock to build the military heritage of the city of Belfort. Citadel, fortifications, porte de Brisach, Saint-Christophe cathedral, station, synagogue, and, of course the colossal Bartholdi Lion erected against the Citadel cliff. Like the stone in which it is carved, it is an integral part of the town's identity, immortalising the resistance of the residents during the conflict of 1870-71 against the Prussians. The Belfort lion? "It's like the Statue of Liberty in New York," say the locals. Created by the same artist from Colmar, the two monuments are not devoid of meaning and symbols.

PINK TOWN

Head for Luxeuil-les-Bains, a pink sandstone town ideally located at the foot of the Southern Vosges and home to Art Deco Gallo-Roman baths. The oldest in France! Its beneficial waters were appreciated by the Gauls and then the Romans who claimed they had virtues of purification, longevity and fertility. They were also enjoyed by Napoleon III and the Empress Eugénie. Elegant districts with ornate façades were built, illuminating the streets with their pink glow. Thermal baths, the Echevins tower, cloister and abbey, the Bailli and Cardinal Jouffroy mansions... Along the shopping streets, under the arcades and around the gardens, these architectural gems make us travel back in time, from an ancient Luxovium to the Belles Éléantes.

DISCOVER while HAVING FUN

Nowadays, we see things differently. We can discover things close at hand, without having to travel far. But that there is no better way to learn and be interested than by having fun. Exit the classic guided tours, panels to read or audio guides pouring out their endless history lessons: in 2021, Burgundy-Franche-Comté will be playful, interactive and 100% oxygenated!

ENTERTAINMENT

This year, we want to go out and have fun! To discover the natural and historical heritage, the region has racked its brains by imagining ever more entertaining or original approaches. Young and old can be carried away by the atmosphere at creative and innovative venues.

In Burgundy-Franche-Comté, travel and discovery very often take on the appearance of experience. Augmented reality, puzzle games, escape games, treasure hunts, fun hikes, workshops and other live experiments; the goal is to learn while having fun.

To understand, we get involved: we crush, we flavour and we make our own Dijon mustard. We learn to cook at the Maison de la Vache qui rit in Lons-le-Saunier. We become an apprentice cheesemaker at the Maison du Comté in Poligny. We make gaudes, a regional edible speciality, at the Musée des Maisons Comtoises in Nancray or we are a chemist for the day at the Maison natale de Louis Pasteur in Dole.

To make a visit to a museum or castle attractive for the whole family, many sites have converted their exhibition halls into playgrounds. The works become a source of creativity and the expertise, a workshop theme; spaces and exhibitions are transformed into stages and traditional guided tours become treasure hunts: we experience history in 'augmented reality' mode.

The Toy Museum in Moirans-en-Montagne, the Polar Worlds exhibition in Prémanon, Frac Besançon, the Science Pavillon in Montbéliard, the Medieval Site in Guédelon, Duboeuf hamlet in Romanèche-Thorins, the Fort des Rousses, the Peugeot Museum in Sochaux, the Royal Saltworks in Arc-et-Senans... They have all been able to reinvent themselves with originality, so that visitors have an unforgettable experience.

The region dares to go even further... Did you ever imagine yourself singing, sleeping or swimming in a UNESCO site? The 8 sites offer unforgettable moments of life: we feel a sonata at the Chapelle Le Corbusier in Ronchamp, an empty space with special acoustics; we have an intense spiritual experience at Fontenay Abbey or at the Basilica of Vézelay; we sleep in the Royal Saltworks at Arc-et-Senans or stroll through its incredible landscaped gardens; we discover hundreds of animals behind the ramparts of the Vauban Citadel in Besançon; we bathe in the turquoise waters of the lakes of Chalain or Clairvaux-Lacs, prehistoric dwelling sites; we ride bikes through the middle of the 'Climats' of the Burgundy vineyards... You have to feel the omnipotence of these unique places.

NEW VIRTUAL EXPERIENCE AT THE ROYAL SALTWORKS IN ARC-ET-SENANS

On the Salt Road, the Royal Saltworks in Arc-et-Senans, white, luminous and unique, is the idealistic and visionary work of Claude-Nicolas Ledoux. Listed as a UNESCO World Heritage site since 1982, this characteristic monument of the Age of Enlightenment uses contemporary technology to allow visitors to experience the time when the manufacture of salt was at its peak. Histopad in hand - an intuitive and fun multilingual touchscreen available from the start - young and old alike meet in the heart of the 18th and 19th centuries. Meeting the workers, historical immersions in 360° 3D, interactive objects, models coming to life virtually... A real scientifically validated journey through time.

□ TRAVEL back in TIME designed by BURGUNDY □

Role-playing games, virtual travel and augmented reality dust off the old stones by bringing a playful and offbeat look to sites that still hold many secrets.

Nowadays, the trend is towards action. That's why Brancion, Alésia, Bibracte and Guédelon (among others!) have been captivating crowds for years. No miraculous recipe, just some clever ideas based on a key word: experience! So, in Burgundy, we participate, we touch, we explore, we experience... There is nothing like it to come to understand history.

Real time machines, Bibracte – Grand Site de France – and the MuséoParc Alésia, two exceptional archaeological sites, transport us to the time of Vercingetorix and Julius Caesar. Animated or virtual walks, participatory workshops or learning the trades of our ancestors at the MuséoFab of Alésia (basketry, ceramics, weaving, carving, leather, cooking...): immersed in action, time flies by, and we learn much more about history than we every could through books.

At the medieval castle of Brancion, we lead our own investigation to find the armour that a scoundrel stole from the Lord of Brancion. An entertaining, costumed visit that will leave you with some funny photos. As for the medieval site in Guédelon in Yonne, this is a real immersion in the Middle Ages, in the middle of a building site. On the site, there are about sixty workers dressed in period attire (quarrymen, stonemasons, masons, carpenters, lumberjacks, blacksmiths, tile makers or even rope makers) who have been building a real castle since 1997, watched carefully by the visitors who find out all about the tools, techniques and materials of the past. Guaranteed interaction! Karrière, a former quarry in Comblanchien, is now a monumental street art fresco, you can immerse yourselves in art through the workshops.

Experts in learning and pedagogy through experience, the tourism designed by Burgundy sites are true story factories!

THE GREAT OUTDOORS

Back to basics or really testing yourself, wilderness survival weekends are becoming more well known and extremely fashionable in the French countryside. In the Haut-Bugey forests, near Genin lake, under the watchful eye of Sylvain, a mid-mountain guide, the apprentice adventurers learn to make a fire, recognise berries and edible wild plants, find their way around, and build a shelter to spend the night there... Camp-fire atmosphere in the evening, sounds of the forest, and a night under the stars... A return to the wild that leaves its mark. Meals in hostel included to prepare yourself before you go on the adventure.

en.hautbugey-tourisme.com

More fun, but just as immersive: the outdoor detective game with the Jura Mountains as a backdrop. Head for the Maison des Cascades in Haut-Jura, for a 100% natural investigation. Detectives for a day have to follow the Hérisson waterfalls trail (wow factor guaranteed!) to find clues allowing them to find a priceless diamond in a limited time.

www.haut-jura-grandvaux.com/en

Further north, near the Royal Saltworks in Arc-et-Senans, the Chaux forest has always been an intriguing place, full of legends and mystery. Lost under the trees, the barracks of 14, the last homes of the woodcutters who once inhabited the forest, become the playground of an Explor'games® which is scheduled to start in July 2021. Codename 'The stolen treasure of the Val d'Amour'. Synopsis: Bandits have stolen the Wyvern's jewel. His anger is so terrible that no one dares to enter the forest. The locals ask some explorers for help. They set off, tablet in hand, for an adventure combining orienteering and puzzles.

ZIP WIRE DESCENT ONE MINUTE OF 100 % ADRENALINE

Between a summit and the village nestled below, we descend at high speed on a giant double zip wire. In pairs or fours, on two lines, thrill seekers launch themselves from the peak of the col de la Faucille into the heart of Mijoux in the Pays de Gex. With the steepest gradient in Europe (37°) and a speed of 90 km/h, this new activity promises an adrenaline rush and an unforgettable memory.

EVEN AT THE MUSEUM YOU DON'T STAND STILL!

Head for the Frac (the Regional Modern Art Centre) in Besançon, for an unusual and uninhibited experimentation with art.

In this 'museum' of contemporary art, visitors are invited to use their bodies to interact with the works, during a danced or meditated visit.

○ SOUTHERN VOSGES

Exploration — 'OF UNKNOWN LANDS' ○

*Because a holiday only makes sense if it's right for us, let's go the Southern Vosges!
Here, young and old alike create their own history, guided by a region with many faces.
A region that is too little known and continues to surprise us.*

In the Southern Vosges, to experience 'unknown lands' we don't need the skills of Gordon Ramsay, or other famous TV presenters! Here, the locals like to welcome people and introduce them to the region. In this northern part of the region, we share slices of life, we feed on encounters with people, we explore and visit differently ...

So, above the Plateau des 1000 Ponds, you quite often see a hot air balloon floating up for a view of the Ballons des Vosges Regional Natural Park from above. Some prefer a plane. Either way, the show is worth it and many providers offer ways to experience the panoramas from up high. It's also the opportunity to check that there are actually 1000 ponds...

On the Planche des Belles Filles side, the now legendary stage of the Tour de France™, alpine pastures, mountains, forests and rivers put mountain bikers, trail runners and horse riders to the test. In winter, snow offers another dimension and, whether on skis or sledges, athletes cover kilometres of slopes.

At a more gentle pace, we enjoy a holiday in a gypsy caravan. At donkey or horse speed, we travel along the small country lanes or the banks of the Saône, we stop in villages filled with flowers, we visit châteaux and museums, we see chalot cabins, washhouses, fountains and thousands of mirabelle plums. We gather cherries in Fougerolles. We drink youth-giving water in Velleminfroy. We blow glass in La Rochère or we play a spiritual symphony at Le Corbusier chapel in Ronchamp. We walk in the footsteps of Saint Colomban in Luxeuil-les-Bains. On the road, you meet travelling holidaymakers who have chosen a different way to get around... It's like that along the river Saône! Aboard their easy-to handle, floating home, they enjoy a river cruise, stopping off at charming spots.

Finally, head for Belfort for an entertaining lion hunt. 150 miniature replicas of Bartholdi's work have been hidden throughout the heart of the Vauban fortified city. Sculptures, trompe l'oeil (and even little chocolate lions) watch from rooftops and balconies, follow passers-by from windows or parade above a shop front. So this cultural city visit goes from 'feet dragging' to fun for everyone!

ARE YOU READY FOR THE CHALLENGE?

In the cellars of the Belfort Citadel, incredible mysteries are hidden. A pioneer in historic monument escape games, 'La Clé du Bastion' has been creating thrilling and immersive treasure hunts since 2015. The perfect way to discover historic sites while having fun. Their base camp? Tower 27, a listed bastioned tower that creates an illusion and immediately surrounds you with history. The latest in the 'Safecrackers' series, this is an historical challenge in the mythical Haxo's Batteries, the real key to the Citadel. 90 minutes for the most daring robbery of the century. More than just an escape game, a cutting-edge concept, challenge and collaborative experience.

INSIGHT

At the edge of the Plateau des 1000 Ponds, we go back in time thanks to an escape game in the great outdoors at the Ferme des Petits Sentiers Ân'imés in Saint-Bresson. A thrilling investigation where we discover the history of the Haute-Saône resistance fighters in the 17th century during the invasion of Franche-Comté (which was Spanish then) by the troops of Louis XIV. Anecdotes inspired by real local stories, a great structure and as immersive as you want.

DINNER TIME!

If there is one region that can make your mouth water at the drop of a hat, it's Burgundy-Franche-Comté. Generous terroirs, inspired chefs, committed producers and gourmet ideas on every street corner... Tables here are not a piece of furniture, they are art!

CHEESE and DESSERT!

From aperitif to digestive, no need to look elsewhere: the region just has to open wide its gourmet pantry, to draw from its terroirs and appeal to its producers to compose the ideal menu. Snails, Charolais or Montbéliarde meat, seasonal vegetables, Bresse poultry and farm pigs, cured meats, freshwater... And no question of choosing between cheese or dessert.

With 60 cheeses on the counter, the board looks really tempting. When it comes to dessert, there too, everything is allowed: biscuits, gingerbread, soufflé with Marc de Bourgogne, shortbread with gaudes, fir bud ice cream, wild fruits ... And to drink, we're spoiled for choice too: with more than 100 appellations of wines and spirits, Burgundy-Franche-Comté says, "Cheers!"

CONTINUING SUCCESS STORY

It is probably also due to its appreciation of taste that Burgundy-Franche-Comté has become a land of artisan and culinary creation. Since the first Japy tin pan was stamped in 1826, table art has never left the region: Cristel, the absolute reference in the high-end culinary world, Lacanche and its ranges known around the world, the famous colourful dishes by Émile Henry, and of course Seb and their pressure cookers, no explanation required. Even Peugeot keeps one foot in the kitchen with its cult pepper mills!

KEY FIGURES

60 The number of cheeses made in Burgundy-Franche-Comté.

10m<sup>2</sup>

This is the minimum area of fresh grass to which a Bresse chicken is entitled so it can stretch out its pretty little blue feet.

15m

The height of the smokehouses used to smoke Morteau sausages and other meats.

38 This is the number of Michelin-starred restaurants in Burgundy-Franche-Comté in 2020.

20 This is the number of Montbéliard cows whose milk is used to make a Comté cheese wheel.

N°5 Burgundy blackcurrant is perfect in a Kir but it is also widely used... in perfumery! It is one of the ingredients in the legendary Chanel n°5 perfume.

135 This is the number of products that are labelled AOC/AOP in the region.

7 DEPARTMENTS HAVE BEEN AWARDED THE ' VÉLO & FROMAGES '

LABEL IN THE REGION

With its many AOC cheeses including Comté, Morbier, Bleu du Haut-Jura, Cancoillotte and Mont d'Or, the Jura Mountains is naturally the Cycling and Cheese destination! Special mention for loop n°8 which leaves goes from Saint-Claude to Lamoura via the Tacon valley, the whole of Hautes Combes and Lajoux. This 74.5 km route is one of the most beautiful in the south of the Haut-Jura... It is also one of the most difficult!

BACK TO GOOD COMMON SENSE

In Burgundy-Franche-Comté, there are no more excuses for sourcing locally, you can even find 100% local pasta. Located in Châtillon-sur-Seine, the 'Épatantes de Bourgogne' sell artisan cereal specialties, particularly, pasta! The ingredients used are all natural, local, and many come from organic farming.

www.fermedecombenoire.eu

In the Jura Mountains, in Torpes in the Doubs, we find Julie and Julien, the 'Jujus', getting their hands dirty. Organic cereals are harvested in the region before being ground with a stone mill and then transformed into pasta according to an old-fashioned process: extrusion on a bronze mould and slow drying to preserve taste and nutritional values.

DO YOU KNOW BORIS MONNIN?

France, Dominican Republic, Switzerland, England, Spain...: before, Boris Monnin was happy to move around to learn his trade. This young chef finally settled in Vesoul. The food at the 'Monnin restaurant' is in his image: full of life and flavours, eclectic and inspiring. He combines exoticism with very regional flavours in his recipe for 'Chicken with crayfish, with Morteau sausage and a yellow wine bisque'... and our taste buds need a passport!

THE GOURMET FOOD TRUCK

The Gastronomy and Promotion of Regional Produce committee (GPPR), the Burgundy-Franche-Comté Regional Produce Embassy, have just launched their first Food Truck.

This will support the 37 sectors of regional producers with marketing in the region and abroad.

The Food Truck might welcome a renowned chef, or run workshop on food and wine working with winegrowers and producers, or even offer culinary training using local products... and there are many more possibilities with this travelling Food Truck. It can feature at trade fairs, festivals, markets and various other events...

VALLÉE DE LA GASTRONOMIE®: A GOURMET JOURNEY FROM DIJON TO MARSEILLES

Tasting at Solutré

With the Vallée de la Gastronomie®, the expression 'eating up the miles' makes perfect sense! Along this route of more than 600 kilometres, connecting Dijon in Burgundy to Marseilles in Provence, we're not just 'driving down to the coast' or 'going up to the north', we are savouring the terroir. A destination in its own right, the Vallée de la Gastronomie® is a route where sharing and a passion for excellence are like landmarks, compasses across landscapes and terroirs.

No borders, no limits, only the pleasures of the table and gourmet discovery. Gastronomy, wines and local products make up this new tourist offer which flirts with the A6 and A7 motorways, as well as with the Saône and the Rhône. Epicureans can finally take the time to stop and enjoy life to the fullest! By pooling their specialities, their richness and their gourmet expertise, the Burgundy-Franche-Comté, Auvergne-Rhône-Alpes, and Sud Provence-Alpes-Côte d'Azur regions, and the Gard department, are reinventing travelling in their own way: with pleasure and generosity.

The ambitious Vallée de la Gastronomie® project is based on a selection of offers that allow you to share and discover expertise:

- Existing gourmet tourist offers are linked to gastronomy, wines and/or local produce.
- A collection of remarkable experiences.

□ TERROIR, MY BEAUTIFUL TERROIR... Designed by BURGUNDY □

'Tell me what you eat,
I'll tell you
who you are!'

Jean Anthelme Brillat-Savarin

This maxim, borrowed from a man of taste, fits like a glove in Burgundy. From north to south, east to west, Burgundy is savoured with no detours. Just 'follow the mythical Route des Grands Crus', travel along gourmet routes or enter a starred chef's restaurant to find out. Throughout the land, among the producers, behind the stoves, or in the factories, some more greedy than others, either in the glass or on the plate, the terroir resonates completely. In the vineyard or elsewhere, there is virtually no piece of land without flavour: snails, cheeses, crémants, red, white and rosé wines, exceptional poultry, Charolais meat known throughout the world, cured meats, beers of character, traditional sweets...

Local specialities that flirt with excellence and complement each other wonderfully, like wine and cheese.

CITIES THAT ARE DETERMINED TO PUT WINE AND GASTRONOMY IN THE SPOTLIGHT

If Dijon is behind the dish, it is also keen to talk about and bring to life the values recognised by Unesco: the French gastronomic meal and the Burgundy vineyard 'Climats'. So, an international Cité of gastronomy and wine will open its doors in December 2021 in the capital of the Dukes of Burgundy. Another big project, entirely dedicated to wine, is on the horizon. Conceived as a network, the Cité des vins & des Climats de Bourgogne will be made up of three wine tourism venues in Beaune, Mâcon and Chablis. A true cultural project, each Cité will be designed as a site in its own right with wine-culture workshops, exhibitions, conferences, concerts, or even bookshops... among the vines.

THE WINE IS REVEALED AND DEMONSTRATED

To understand Burgundy wines, nothing beats a guided tasting. At the Château de Garnerot, in Mercurey, two passionate and multilingual (French, Italian, Russian and German) oenologists welcome you. In Nuits-Saint-Georges, at the Dufouleur Frères Domain oenothèque, you can take time to taste the wines of the family estate, in a warm and studious ambience. In Gevrey-Chambertin, the brand new Halle Chambertin offers a 360° immersion in the star appellation of the Côte de Nuits: discover the Combe Lavaux nature reserve and the history of the vines and wines and, of course, taste.

◇ JURA MOUNTAINS THE EXPERTISE OF AN EPICUREAN! ◇

In the Jura Mountains, working with your hands is second nature. During the long winters and in order to find additional sources of income, the farmers in the Jura Mountains have developed very specific activities. Generation after generation, they have refined and passed on skills and expertise in the fields of wood, metal, glass, fabric... Today, many workshops or manufacturing sites are opening their doors to the public -

Musée du Jouet, Musée de la Lunette, Soieries Bonnet, Musée de la Boissellerie, Musée de la Pipe et du Diamant, Musée de la Montre, Musée de l'Horlogerie, Founderies... – in the Jura Mountains. Artisanry is more alive than ever!

CULINARY RANGE

Behind this preserved expertise also hides a gourmet heritage. On foot, by bike or in a car, a trip through the Jura Mountains has always had a particular flavour: a break in Pontarlier to understand the mystery surrounding absinthe, a visit to the Fort des Rousses, cathedral of flavours entirely dedicated to Comté, a stop off at the Maison de la Vache qui Rit in Lons-le-Saunier and its incredible discovery trail, an escape into the Jura vines to discover the 'vin jaune', a step into the industrial world at the Grande Saline in Salins-les-Bains, or a little detour via Poligny, the capital of Comté. Another wine discovery in the Jura Mountains, to the south of the Massif: Le Bugey and Le Cerdon wines... There's no doubt, appetite runs right through the Jura Mountains!

THE NEW MAISON DU COMTÉ

FOR THE LOVE OF COMTÉ

In Poligny, the capital of Comté, the new Maison du Comté will begin to take shape in February 2021. This wood and zinc building uses a hybrid space entirely dedicated to France's favourite cheese. With an astonishing transparency, there is a shop in the shape of a millstone, a Comté bar. The museography is unique and gourmet, it presents the different stages of production and maturation for Comté. # ○ SOUTHERN VOSGES

○ GREAT ON

A PLATE ○

In this region bathed in authenticity, the word tradition has a special flavour: it is good to take the time to live, reconnect and share a good time in all simplicity; celebrating the recipes of yesteryear and the expertise of the past.

In Passavant-la-Rochère, we discover the oldest art glassworks in France still in operation. Although production is now mechanised, La Rochère, an Entreprise du Patrimoine Vivant, (Living Heritage Company), founded in 1475, has not abandoned the 'handmade and blown' method. Glasses, plates, carafes, verrines, egg cups: the pieces with their crystalline reflections make you want to use them.

Generous by nature, the region has a palette of expertise and flavours that you can't find anywhere else: Fougerolles cherries, fir honey, Vosges sweets, blueberry jam, regional cured meats, Munster... We don't skimp on tradition!

HAPPINESS IS IN THE FOOD

A warm welcome, grandmother's cooking, generous dishes made from local produce, this is the recipe for happiness. You can't leave the area without sharing a 'repas mercaire', with its typical ferme-auberge dishes: soup or a pie from the valley, smoked pork with 'roigabrageldi' (sliced potatoes cooked for 2 to 3 hours in farm butter with onions and bacon), a little Munster cheese and to finish, a farmhouse yoghurt, sprinkled with kirsch, or a home-made tart of course. From the starters to dessert, the Vosges Massif is great on a plate!

FRESH AND LOCAL, PERFECT

The Belfort Lion, a masterful sculpture by Bartholdi, watches customers out of the corner of his eye: they all seem to be smiling when they leave the table. It's a good sign! It must be said that at La Fleur de Lys, everything is right: the chef follows the seasons, he respects traditions, he favours local produce and everything is home-made. And that little extra? The edible flowers that he loves to slip onto dinner plates.

LE BEFORE, IT'S NOW

Bar, standing tables, raw wood, metal, an industrial style and open kitchen: here in Belfort, you can have an aperitif without any fuss with the 'discovery boards'. Choose from classic, with local produce, adventurer, with insects, or gourmet, with caviar or oysters. Guaranteed discoveries both on the plate and in the glass.

WELCOME TO 'ANGÈLE ET AUGUSTE'

Well established in Vauconcourt-Nervezain, in Haute-Saône between the countryside and the banks of the Saône, the 'Maison d'Hôtes Angèle et Auguste' is ideally located. In this residence steeped in history - the building dates from 1800 and was originally a stop off for hunters on horseback under Napoleon Bonaparte - the happy owners have created 5 contemporary-style bedrooms. Created from scratch, they blend 'country chic' decoration, with a flea market atmosphere and vintage touches. And that little extra? Furniture and antique objects found all over and on sale in the house. A mixture of styles, eras and inspirations, renovated or upcycled furniture, inspiration is behind every door. In the garden, the guest house has two sides: relaxation and well-being by the pool, and a more relaxed and intimate atmosphere in the shade, in one of the secret corners.

WHAT IF PASTIS REALLY COMES FROM HAUTE-SAÔNE?

The history of Fougerolles Absinthe and Pastis are closely linked. Both were created on the initiative of one man: Abel Bresson. Anticipating the ban on absinthe, in 1870, he marketed two aniseed liqueurs 'La Bressonnide' and 'La Bressonnette'. This was more than 60 years before Paul Ricard's Pastis... The business never took off, there was still a great preference for the green fairy! From the 1920s, other Fougerollais distillers such as Lemerrier Frères, or Pereux with its aniseed cream, tried to crack the anise market, by adapting their old absinthe recipes. They even positioned themselves as leaders in the French market from the 1930s, before falling into oblivion... a bonus for other brands which would use the same expertise!

#GET OUT AND ABOUT

In Burgundy-Franche-Comté, the tourist providers have only got one thing to say: "GET OUT AND ABOUT!" Together with this real cry from the heart: a manifesto to get you moving, a website for ideas of places to go, for you to bounce back, to smile again and to boost local tourism.

Accommodation, cafés and restaurants, shops and businesses, sports and recreational venues, leisure activities, workshops, monuments and museums speak with one voice to invent the world of tomorrow: Let's rediscover our regional treasures. Let's fling open our doors and get together again. Remember, happiness is often where you least expect it... in other words, close at hand!

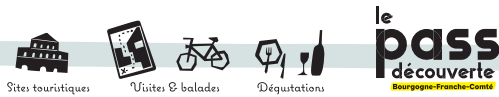

Come and sign the manifesto and get out and about in Burgundy-Franche-Comté!

DISCOVERY PASS

Summer 2020 was marked by the launch of the 'Burgundy-Franche-Comté Pass Découverte' discovery pass, on 1 July. The aim? Offer visitors - residents, second home owners, and tourists - access to a diversified tourist, cultural and leisure offer that is representative of the regional wealth. Once they have got their pass (3 day, 7 day or annual), they can access partner sites for free or with special benefits. Implemented by Burgundy-Franche-Comté Tourism, this new tool is available at tourist sites and tourist offices in the region, and can be used at a range of places identified by Burgundy-Franche-Comté Tourism and the Regional Council as 'essential'.

One Pass to discover the region, from €15.
